

JLG Forklift Parts

JLG Forklift Parts - In the late 1960's John L. Grove, with his wife Cora embarked on a cross country trip in their RV. Freshly retired, after spending numerous years working with his brother to assemble their crane business into an market leader, John had no idea that momentous trip would allow JLG Industries, Inc to emerge. The world leader of mobile aerial work platforms and precision material handling technologies was the end consequence of a road trip.

During their trip, John reacquainted himself with past business associates along the way. In combination with these conversations and a noteworthy event; two workers were tragically electrocuted on scaffolding when the Groves were passing through the Hoover Dam. John discovered a substantial market for a product that could quickly and safely lift individuals in the air to accomplish upkeep and other construction services.

After returning from their vacation, John set up a business with two of his friends and bought a metal fabricating business in McConnellsburg, Pennsylvania. Opening with a small crew of twenty workers, they fashioned and sold their first JLG aerial work platform in 1970. The company incorporates some of the basic design essentials of that original lift into current designs.

JLG forklifts have come a long way from the time when Mr. John L. Grove came back to town from his cross-country road trip and since the first aerial work platform debuted on the market. Nowadays, the company proudly continues to expand itself into many marketplaces globally and develops new products to make certain customers are capable of being more effective and perform in the workplace within a safer environment.
